NONCOMMERCIAL EDUCATIONAL FM AND FM TRANSLATOR APPLICATIONS DISMISSED FOR FAILURE TO FILE REQUIRED INFORMATION.

By this Public Notice, the Media Bureau (the “Bureau”) dismisses certain applications to construct new or modified noncommercial educational (“NCE”) broadcast stations on channels reserved for NCE use. A listing of the dismissed FM and FM translator applications is attached. In conjunction with the adoption of new NCE comparative criteria, the Commission required all applicants with pending and cut-off applications that were in conflict with other such applications to file universal settlements, engineering amendments eliminating all conflicts, or point supplement amendments.¹ The deadline for these filings was July 19, 2001. Our records reflect that the applicants on the attached lists failed to timely file the required information. Consistent with previous announcements that such applications would be dismissed, the Bureau today dismisses each of these applications.² Petitions for reconsideration must be filed within thirty days of this Public Notice. Those applicants seeking reconsideration based on compliance with the July 19, 2001 filing requirement should submit proof of timely filing with the Office of the Secretary of its settlement, engineering amendment, or point supplement.

The Bureau has begun the process of identifying applications that will become technically grantable as a result of the dismissals announced herein. Action on these applications will commence once dismissal of the attached applications become final.

² Id. See also Public Notice, Supplements and Settlements to Pending Closed Group NCE Applications, 16 FCC Rcd 6893 (Media Bureau 2001); Public Notice, Deadline for NCE Settlements and Supplements Extended To July 19, 2001, 16 FCC Rcd 10892 (Media Bureau 2001). The Commission also posted information about these requirements on its web site, www.fcc.gov, and in the Federal Register. Reexamination of Comparative Standards for NCE Applications, 66 FR at 15353-57 (March 19, 2001); Reexamination of Comparative Standards for NCE Applications, 66 FR at 29801-03 (June 1, 2001).
